

Central Reservations

The right Central Reservation System (CRS) can insure that a property is getting every dollar possible from callers. To increase RevPar, your CRS must focus on agent productivity, distribution systems integration, PMS integration, customer care, service bundling and ease of use.

CRS is one of the few systems that can give a property an immediate Return on Investment (ROI). Let O'Neal Consultants sift through all the options available to a property and guide you to the right decision for your system selection. O'Neal Consultants is also available for installation support, maintenance and existing systems evaluations.
